What To Do-

If a Burglar Gets Into Your Bedroom

1. If your bed is near a telephone quietly take the receiver off the hook. The operator may become suspicious and send police.
2. Pretend you're asleep until a chance comes to act without setting hurt.
3. If within easy reach of a firearm, and sure that it really is a burglar, use the weapon at the first opportunity, probably when the burglar's back is turned.
4. Try to take a mental picture of the burglar without being observed. This will help when notifying police.

By The Associated Press
Just how far you would go in following some of these suggestions of New York City's Police Commissioner, Lewis J. Valentine, depends on how tough the burglar is.

Night house burglars, says the commissioner, fall into two general classes:

Shack thieves who steal money from pants pockets and purses after climbing fire escapes to get in.

Other factors governing your actions would be how many burglars there are, how big and how well armed; who else on your side may be around.

If you live in an apartment where there are other people or a doorman handy, or if you're in a well-controlled neighborhood you naturally stand a better chance of attracting help than the person in a secluded private home.

MAY RUN OWENS FOR GOVERNORSHIP

By The Associated Press
TOLEDO, O., Sept. 12.—Edward Lamb, Ohio counsel for the Committee for Industrial Organization, asserted in a formal statement today that the C.I.O. would "go down the line 100 per cent for John W. Owens," its Ohio director, if he would consent to become a candidate for the governorship of Ohio.

"Labor is entitled to its own candidate," Lamb remarked. He added:

"We are being asked the attitude of the C.I.O. concerning the gubernatorial candidacies of Charles W. Sawyer and others. We can not feel that banker-politicians professing friendship for labor are entitled to be considered."

SAFETY TIRE TO BE DEMONSTRATED HERE

Double Tube Devised as Safe-guard Against Blowout. To Be Given Public Test.

Residents of Marion Monday at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. are invited to witness an unusual demonstration of one of the most important developments of science in the war against traffic accidents—the double inner tube. The demonstration will be given on North Prospect street between Silver and Fairground streets.

A special automobile equipped with the tubes, which are a product of the Goodyear Rubber Co. of Akron will be driven at high speed over a flat plate covered with huge railroad spikes. The driver will be Eddie Koffroth, veteran Goodyear test driver, who has made 350 similar demonstrations, since Jan. 3 when he started a nationwide tour at Miami, Fla.

The new tubes are actually a tire within a tire. An outer conventional tube contains an inner tube. A tiny vent allows air to pass from the outer to the inner tube, but when a blowout occurs the air instantly escapes from the outer tube but can escape only through the tiny vent from the inner tube. Thus the driver having a blowout is able to bring his car to a stop without swerving. In addition to the spikes, there will be dynamite caps which will blow carings apart to test the new tubes.

BLACK DISPUTE FLARES ANEW

G.O.P. Chairman Hamilton and Shouse of Liberty League Enter Argument.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—From outbursts of criticism and support of Justice Hugo L. Black, alleged to be a life member of the Ku Klux Klan, came today from these public figures:

1. Republican Chairman John Hamilton termed it inconceivable that President Roosevelt "would knowingly have appointed a Klan man to the supreme court."

2. President J. M. Shouse of the American Liberty League, which fought Mr. Roosevelt's re-election, contended the chief executive must have known of Black's alleged affiliation. It was the league's first statement since the 1936 campaign.

3. Sen. Connally, Democrat of Texas, declared the future was a question of politics, apparently an effort to embarrass the President.

4. Sen. O'Hann, Democrat of Virginia, who opposed Black's confirmation, said he still considers the justice unfit "regardless of the Ku Klux Klan charges."

5. Sen. Lee, Democrat of Oklahoma, termed the Klan charges "only smoke screen" laid down because "one who disliked Black's championship of the utilities holding company bill and wage and hour legislation."

Hamilton's statement more moderate than the comments of some Republican congressmen, said:

"In an issue of such seriousness affecting as it does the integrity of our fundamental institutions, there is no proper place for partisan criticism."

Shouse, just home from Europe, said he had no personal knowledge of whether Black was a Klansman.
He added:

"But I distinctly remember when he was elected to the senate from Alabama in 1926 his election was hailed as a great Klan victory."

"Mr. Roosevelt, then as now keenly interested in politics, was unquestionably familiar with the popular feeling of Mr. Black as a Klan senator. It seems incredible that these circumstances could have escaped Mr. Roosevelt's mind when he was considering Mr. Black for the supreme court."

Sen. Connally, who had been an opponent of the Roosevelt court bill, said he was wholly out of sympathy with the opposition to Black.

"The President," he said, "ought not to be expected to undertake to influence a member of the court by putting pressure on him to resign or to pursue any other kind of course, once he has been appointed and confirmed as a judge of course."

Meanwhile the justice department announced it had paid Justice Black $866.66 for 12 days' salary in August. He took the oath of office on Aug. 19.

JOHNSON DEPLORES ROOSEVELT'S AIMS

By The Associated Press
TOLEDO, O., Sept. 18.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former N.R.A. administrator, warned last night that President Roosevelt is "risking success of the new deal by aspiration to unprecedented power."

"The new deal is good but it is going to fail," Johnson said in an address at the opening of Toledo's centennial celebration.

Other speakers were Edward F.
McGrady, former assistant secretary of labor who resigned recently to join the Radio Corporation of America, and John D. Riggers, Toledo glass manufacturer who accepted this week his appointment to conduct a federal unemployment census.

Johnson warned "it is a shame and a pity that a great political leader with a great humanitarian spirit should risk the success of the program for the sake of a sudden aspiration to unprecedented political power."

GAS COMPANY SUED IN COLUMBUS COURT

tory covered embraces all the state except Cleveland and the northeast section which is served by the East Ohio Gas Co.

As of Dec. 31, 1935, the petition states, the number of gas consumers affected was 525,249. It estimates that between 650,000 and 700,000 consumers were affected at some time during the nine-year period.

In addition to the $10,000,000 alleged to have been fraudulently collected through adulteration, the suit charges that extra expenses incurred in making the adulteration was figured in rate structures and is the equivalent of two cents per 1000 cubic feet in rates to consumers.

Settles Loss $3 a Year Davies, who is city attorney of Columbus directing a gas rate battle before the Ohio public utilities commission, estimated that consumers had been defrauded of an average rate of $3 a year.

"The adulterations are alleged to have been accomplished through the Preston Oil Co., which extracts oil from the natural gas of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Fuel gas purchased from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. at 20 cents per 1000 cubic feet is slime gas is said to be seven to nine times greater than is allegedly sold back to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and mixed by it with the natural gas delivered to consumers."

Adulterations are alleged to be made at the compressor stations at Painesville, near Ashland; the Homer-trout station near Mt. Vernon, and the Sugar Grove-Wheeler station near Lancaster.

Council representing Davies in the though Columbus Gas was not qualified to do business in Ohio, subsidiaries to five of its executive officers.

It alleged that Columbus Gas had five Ohio employees: Frank M. Tait of Dayton, O. C. I. Weaver of Springfield, O., Paul S. Clapp of Beavertown, O. and Hubert C. Blackwell of Cincinnati.

U.S. ZONE UNDER JAP FIRE AGAIN

New Barrage on Markham Road Sector Imperils Defending Marines.

By The Associated Press
SHANGHAI, Sept. 18.—Japanese artillery unleashed a new bombardment of the Markham road section today, bringing fresh perils to the American-intended sector of Shanghai's war-torn international settlement.

Japanese shells crashed into the area close by the patrol assigned United States Marines as Japanese navy planes, taking advantage of clearing weather, resumed bombardment of Chinese positions on a wide front.

The aerial attack was launched against Lihong, Lotien, Kiangwan, Chapel and Pootung, Japanese naval officials declared, aiming at Chinese troop concentrations in those sections.

At the same time a Japanese army officer asserted Japan's land forces had repulsed Chinese counter-attacks on a 20-mile front extending from the north at Lihong to Shanghai's outskirts.

The Japanese were said to have advanced within a mile of Lihong, the powerful wireless transmitting base to the north where Chinese forces were in strong positions.

Heavy Chinese casualties were reported in the counter-attacks when Japanese permitted the advancing troops to push within close range before opening a withering machine gun fire that halted the Chinese.

Chinese army authorities admitted Japanese forces had captured Lotien, about 15 miles north of Shanghai, and that Chinese troops were retreating from positions on the Lihong sector nearest the city.

Lihong itself was said still to be in Chinese hands, however.

The warfare came as a last-nerved Shanghai sought relaxation at the movies.

COURT NEWS

FILED SILENTLY
William Smith of North Barnhart street filed an amended petition yesterday in common pleas court against Richard A. Lau, doing business as the Marion Brass & Foundry Co., and others, of whom he asks $40,000 damages for allegedly contracted while in the foundry's employ.

He states he was employed from Jan. 1, 1925, leaving the company on May 16, 1933. He charges he was no longer able to work because of ailments contracted at the plant where he operated a sand blaster, helped clean castings, light core ovens and assist generally. He contends the disease could have been avoided if the defendant had exercised ordinary care. There was no pure air, no protection against great heat and fumes and no respirators, Mr. Smith states.

A claim by Mr. Smith was denied by the state industrial commission in 1933. Paul D. Smith is the plaintiff's attorney.

Licensed To Wed
A marriage license was granted yesterday in probate court to Alvin Somerlot, farmer of Marion county, and Mildred Davis of 411 Davis street.

Divorce Action
Petition dismissed — James A.
Cooper against Bertha L. Cooper

Grounds charged were gross neglect and extreme cruelty. Mous-er and Mower were plaintiff's counsel.

FLETCHER'S EYE NOT ON GOVERNORSHIP

Will seek Election to Congress,
He Announces.
Rep. Brooke Fletcher of Marion announced today he was not a candidate for the Ohio governorship "at this time," according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C. A Cleveland newspaper earlier this week carried Mr.

might enter the Democratic pri-a candidate for governor at this time. I expect to be a candidate for re-election to congress."

He declared that he believes the Ohio delegation in congress will not be active in the party primaries next August.

FLETCHER'S EYE NOT ON GOVERNORSHIP

Will seek Election to Congress,
He Announces.

Rep. Brooke Fletcher of Marion
announced today he was not a candidate for the Ohio governorship "at this time," according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C. A Cleveland newspaper earlier this week carried Mr.
Fletcher's name in a list of possible candidates.

Reading the reports that he might enter the Democratic pri-meet those demands for social and economic betterment has been jeopardized or actually forbidden by those who have sought to read into the Constitution language which the framers refused to write

Childing lawyers for disagreements over the meaning of the Constitution, and the supreme court for divided opinions, the President said the "odd man" on the court had often decided vital issues.

In conclusion, Mr. Roosevelt asked those who have faith in the Constitution's capacity to "work out the problems of democracy" to "justify that faith by making it work now rather than 20 long years from now."

The President made no mention of the current controversy over alleged Ku Klux Klan membership by his only nominee to the supreme court, Associate Justice Black.

Those in the front of the crowd, however, noted Gov. Ebb Graves of Alabama was seated conspicuously on the speakers' platform with his wife, Sen. Dixie Bibb Graves.

Graves recently acknowledged one-time membership in the Klan, but denied knowledge of published reports that Black was initiated at the same time.

Meanwhile, some Washington observers held the view that the unsettled controversy over the Black case made it unlikely that President Roosevelt would call a special session of congress in the fall.

There still was no hint from the White House, however, of the President's plans in this direction.

Some informed persons suggested the President's journey to the coast might show whether there was much sentiment for a special session to enact a crop control program.

cers. Delegations from Marion, Butts, Upper Sandusky and Mt.
Gilead will be present for the informal gathering, plans for which are being directed by Dr. Frank R. Mann of Marion, council president. The scouters will meet for supper tonight and after spending the night at camp will close their activity with a breakfast.

MEN HELD HERE FACE CHARGES

Two of Trio Indicted in Pennsylvania for Burglaries, Police Say.

Pennsylvania police arrived in Marion today to assist state highway patrolmen from the Marion sub-station in completing investigation in connection with the arrest here Thursday night of three Pennsylvania men on suspicion of automobile stealing.

Charges of auto stealing were filed against each of the trio in marion court this morning and they are being held at the county jail. The charges were filed by Corporal H. W. Sowers, who said that the men would probably be held here pending expected arrival of federal officers from Cleveland later today and completion of the investigation.

W. L. Ambrose, police chief of Alliquippa, Pa., and C. J. O'Laughlin, detective of Beaver county, investigation of the cases followed today identified two of the men wanted in connection with 12 breaking and entering cases in Pennsylvania. The two, Joseph Marvin, 23, of West Alliquippa, and William Klinek, 19, of Alliquippa, are accused of a dozen burglaries, one of which netted a loot of $700 at a Beaver county school. The Pennsylvania officers said.

The third, William Lawson, 41, of Sunbury, is not wanted by Pen-sylvania authorities, but may be returned to Terre Haute, Ind., where the car in which the trio was found had been reported stolen earlier this week. Corporal Sowers said Lawson may be taken into custody by federal authorities upon their arrival here, on a charge of transporting a stolen car across the state line, but in the event that he is not turned over either to Indiana or federal authorities, he will be prosecuted here, Sowers said.

The three were taken into custody shortly after 8 p. m. Thursday when Corporal Sowers and Patrolman D. L. Callentine answered a call to investigate the actions of three suspicious persons parked in an automobile near the Marion Union Stockyards. Donald Weston, 23, of 375 Fahey street, night watchman at the stockyards, notified the patrol sub-station when he became suspicious of the men.
Officers found them sleeping in a parked car which allegedly was stolen in Terre Haute. All three made signed statements, admitting their part in the automobile theft.
Sowers reported.

One of the costumes modeled in the show was a green broad jacket suit with white pique collar and white felt beret which was made by the regulation 4-H uniform. Twins, blondes, redheads and white dresses were entered in the show. In Group 2, Dore Oesterle showed a frock with blue and white stripes and a white felt beret which was made by the regulation 4-H uniform. Twins, blondes, redheads and white dresses were entered in the show.

The style show included quite a few wool dresses, among them a blue and white shade trimmed with blue and white wool. The most impressive dress shown was an 89 cent print dress. Unusually attractive was a London tan linen frock trimmed in luggage tan and worn with luggage tan accessories. The girl who won first place in the home economics group was of monian cut and was commended for its unusually fine workmanship. A peach satin vest gave color to a rust crepe dress worn with black accessories.

Each girl in the show carried a handkerchief with an applique design which she had executed. The girls wore every type dress, from house frock to formal. One of the latter was of peach velvet with a royal blue taffeta jacket. Less than a month's time was required to knit a rust color suit worn with brown accessories.

CHAPTER THIRTY

THEY crouched on the principal stairway, listening for sounds from above. A close heavy silence lay on the ship that was like a weight on their breaths. Nell searched for Janet's hand in the dark and pressed it.

"Jan, darling, I'm so sorry I got in a rage last night."

"Don't," she whispered. "I can't bear to hear you blame yourself. Every thing you said was right. Jan! There was a man hidden in the clothes closet of your cabin on the yacht. We found evidence of it today."

"Then you know now that I didn't shoot Fanning."

"I know it—not that it makes any difference to me."

After what seemed like an age, they heard doors opening above them in the ship, and subdued voices. The searchers had entered the restaurant on a deck. They did not pause, but came down the stairs. Nor did they linger on B deck. Evidently the man of search had been changed.

Nell and Janet had to snatch up their belongings and run on down in a hurry. At one moment Boninger was so close to them that they heard him say:

"If we cornered them in the hold of the vessel, a desperate man might shoot. It's better to work from the bottom up. We'll force them out into the open on deck."

Hand in hand, Nell and Janet flew down the stairs as silently as they had been on wings to D deck and on to E deck. In the grand saloon they distributed their impediments amongst the other litter, hoping that it would not be too closely examined, and ran across the immense room, keeping only Janet's clothes and the precious food and water. As the pantry door swung to behind them, Boninger's light showed around the bend of the stairs.

Running across the pantry, they entered the corridor between the bakery and cold storage room. As they came into the gallery beyond, a door on the other side opened and a light showed through. They drew back with the cold hand of fear on their breasts.

"It's no use!" whispered Janet. "We're caught between them!"

"Back this way," said Nell. In the pantry, he switched on his light and cast it desperately around. In the middle of the room a dumbwaiter rested on a table with its ropes disappearing into a shaft overhead.

"It's a chance!" said Nell. "Quick, Jan!"

"That's all right," said Nell. "I can't go up."

"They haven't had a chance to get up yet," said Nell. "I can't go up."

tion of the man on deck and he turned to listen. Nell snatched up his boot from the door and pulled Janet away. They heard the man coming. The pantry was locked. They retreated around the corner of the wall, and crouched under a serving table. The man came in. His mind was on the dumbwaiter. Sticking his head in the shaft, he called:

"Hello, down there!"

"From deep below a voice answered: "Hello."

"Did you just pull this thing down?"

"Sure."

"That's all right then. All quiet up here."

He went out on deck and Nell and Janet relaxed. Nell hung an arm around her to steady her trembling.

After about a quarter of an hour, Nell said:

"White Janet watched the man out on deck, he very softly pulled up the dumbwaiter. They got in it as before, and he let it down inch by inch until it bumped softly on its table in the E deck pantry. All was dark and still below.

Crossing the saloon, they listened at the bottom of the main stairway. Faint sounds of the watch on D deck came down. Boninger's signal was given and his party ascended to C deck. After a long time they heard the signal again, and the search moved up another flight.

Having recovered the "buck," the rope ladder, the ball of rope, etc., Nell and Janet crept up the stairway and stole back through a corridor to the royal side.

"Home at last!" said Nell. They baited the doors and enjoyed a brief let-down.

"They presently went out on the veranda. Nell pulled down the heavy window (it opened from the top) and they stood beside it, listening. Soon they heard the search party come out on the boat deck. Boninger's final signal was given, and they heard the whole party descending the ladders.

"They have gone," he said. "Oh, Nell!" faltered Janet. "What now?"

"I must go back and join them."

"How can you get out of this ship if the door at the top of the engine room shaft is fastened?"

"That's easy. I'll climb out on the promenade through one of the windows on D deck. You can come with me and close it after I'm out. That is, if you're not afraid to come back alone."

"I won't be afraid," said Janet. "Not after what we have already been through. How will you get back without being seen?"

"I'll climb out on the starboard side of this vessel. I'll make sure that no one is watching from above before I try to jump across. Once on the Montmorency, I'm safe."

They set out. "Remember the signal when I come back tomorrow night," Nell said as he kissed her at the window on B deck.

He took plenty of time to make the return journey, taking care to spot each guard on the boat deck, before expelling himself. The search

Bishops To Visit Marion in Only Session in Ohio

Four Evangelical Dignitaries To Be Here Wednesday, Thursday: Hundreds Expected To Attend.

For the first time in its history the Episcopal church will entertain all the bishops of the denomination when the further with Christ Mission in the Evangelical church brings them to Marion next Wednesday and Thursday.

Marion will be the only city in the state to entertain the bishops. Several hundred ministers and laymen are expected to attend. These services of an inspirational and educational nature will be held.

Each of the bishops, together with other general officers of the denomination, will give conspicuous service to the initiation of the spiritual crusade which will reach the months ahead, into every corner of the Southwest. Arrangements to entertain the bishops and visitors will be completed over the week-end by a local committee headed by pastors of the Evangelical churches.

The program will be announced in detail the first of the week.

Senior Bishop J. S. Stinson, D. D., of the Episcopal church, Episcopal director of the eastern area, will head the team of bishops. Bishop Stinson is a well known figure in eastern church circles. Leaving a pastorate to become professor in the Evangelical Theological Seminary, Nashville, Tenn., he was elected bishop by the general conference held in Williamsport, Pa., in 1926. After serving as Episcopal head of the Southwest, he has headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., for eight years he was transferred to the eastern area of the Episcopal church in 1934. He is president of the Evangelical School of Theology, Reading, Pa., chairman of the Board of Publication of the Episcopal church and overseer of many missions in his area. His area includes three Pennsylvania conferences, the New York, Atlantic, New England churches of the denomination.

Bishop George E. Epp, D. D., of the Episcopal church, is the second member of the bishops team. After serving as executive secretary-treasurer of the Evangelical Missionary society, he was elevated to the episcopacy in 1930. His missionary travels took him on inspection tours of Evangelical Missions in China, Japan, Germany, Switzerland and Baltic nations. He is president of the Evangelical church work in the great northwest for four years and since 1934 has been in direct charge of the Evangelical conferences of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ontario Canada. Besides being president of the board of missions he heads many other boards of an educational and philanthropic character.

After giving 15 years of conspicuous leadership to the Evangelical church as general secretary of the Christian Education, Bishop E. W. Fraetorius, D. D., was raised to the episcopacy in 1934. His area covers the great northwest from Minnesota to Ontario. He is a noted Bible student as well as a much-heard speaker to youth. He is in demand for many gatherings. He serves as president of the General Board

Social Affairs

The early fall weddings will be that of Miss Lillian Thomas, daughter of former Marion County State Representative Earl E. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, and Jack Daner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daner of 664 Girard avenue. The bride-elect and her fiance will be married Saturday, Oct. 2, for the ceremony, which will take place in the First Presbyterian church, with Dr. E. T. Waring, of Epworth, pastor of the couple, officiating. The service will be at 2:30 o'clock.

The engagement and date for the wedding were announced last week when Mrs. Thomas entertained a group of her daughter's friends at bridge at their home at 658 East Church street.

A card tied on the neck of a kitten bore the announcement, and was signed by Miss Betty Jacobs, when little Nancy Lee Eberly lit the cat out of the bag following the season of bridge. The Thomas has chosen pink and blue for her wedding colors and the party will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas. A card tied on the neck of a kitten bore the announcement, and was signed by Miss Betty Jacobs, when little Nancy Lee Eberly lit the cat out of the bag following the season of bridge.

Miss Drumm Weds S. W. Haldeman at Calvary Church

MISS TWILA M. DRUMM became the bride of Sherman W. Haldeman, Marion city treasurer, in a ceremony read this morning at Calvary Evangelical church. Only the close relatives and friends of the couple attended the wedding, which was solemnized at 11:45 o'clock. The single ring service was read by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Heininger.

The bride was dressed in duvety velvet in a rust shade, and her accessories were in black. Her flowers were yellow and bronze button chrysanthemums arranged in a shoulder corsage.

Attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Drumm of Bellevue, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, Grant Haldeman, father of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ellis.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ellis entertained 40 guests at an informal reception at their home at 484 N. Vernon avenue. Receiving and the host and bridegroom were Mr. and Mrs. Drumm and the bridegroom's father. The room was decorated with fall flowers, and in the dining room the table was centered with a wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bride wore a white dress with a pink and white sash.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Haldeman left by motor for Chicago. Upon their return they will take up their residence at 254 Spencer street, where they have their home furnished.

Mr. Haldeman is the daughter of A. E. Drumm of Redefontaine avenue. She was graduated from Harding High school in 1930 and has been employed in the office of Jay H. Maish, advertising.

Mr. Haldeman is a graduate of Harding High school, class of 1935, and attended North Central college at Naperville, Ill. He is employed in the coast department of the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

THREE VIEWS OF THE FUTURE MRS. JOHN ROOSEVELT

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADOLF GARNER

Lillian suggests way to thwart Phil's plans.

MY ANSWER to Queen Olga's question was prompt, for I saw no reason to evade the issue she herself had brought up.

"Mr. Verizen told Mary he wished her to go to New York in a week," I said. "He told her the rehearsal of my play would begin at that time, but he named two weeks later to me. I am inclined to believe he gave the correct date to me, counting upon my being able to induce her to have private rehearsals of her role with me at my apartment."

"Made only nixed a stage career herself because of her mother's objections," Lillian said. "I made frantic signals to her for silence which she loathly disregarded."

"Mr. Verizen himself offered her the chance to study with him, and to appear later in his productions, the supreme theatrical accolade of this country," Lillian went on. "But Midge decided—wisely, I think—to stick to her knitting—writing plays instead of acting them. But Phil is convinced over the way she interprets her own lines when reading them, and he is anxious to have her pass on that interpretation to Mary during the two weeks before general rehearsals begin."

"A week!" Queen Olga said. "That means that Olga and Noel will be dependent upon each other for 'nobility'!"

"She turned to me with something almost imperative in her voice."

"When did you say we could come to you?" she asked.

"I am going home day after tomorrow," I said, "and I will immediately arrange for your coming upon any day you wish."

"Will you let me offer a sort of solution, Midge?" Lillian queried.

"Of course," I told her, and she leaned forward with her eyes upon Olga.

"It won't do any harm for you and Olga to stay here two or three days after Mary goes," she said. "At that time, my husband and I will be able to get away from the house party to which we are going with our daughter and her friends. We will come here—have a big comfortable car—and take you down to the Graham farm."

Queen Roosevelt

She paused, and then laughed mischievously.

"And won't I revel in seeing Phil's face when he hears that one!" she gloated.

"I saw Queen Olga's eyebrows contract into an involuntary frown, and I knew that even though she herself was anxious to tell Phil Verizen's plans for her daughter, she subconsciously resented any ridicule of the man around whom her first romantic imaginings had centered so long ago."

But if Lillian saw that tiny frown she ignored it, and went on rapidly: "I'll write you here at the hospital early next week, telling you just what day and hour we'll come for you. And our car has an immense trunk, so we can take care of your baggage."

First of Series of Parties Given for Bride-Elect

FIRST of the pre-nuptial parties for Miss Margaret Hill whose approaching marriage to Harry McCally was announced a week ago today was a linen shower and bridge given last evening by Mrs. Joseph Roby at her home at 126 Third avenue.

Vases of asters and other fall flowers decorated the room. After a session of bridge awards for high scores were presented to Miss Jean Witt and Miss Hill.

Tall lighted tapers and a centerpiece of poinsettias and ageratum decorated the long table at which the hostess served refreshments. Assisted by her mother-in-law, Mrs. O. V. Roby. The appointments and favors carried out a bridal theme. Original poems directed Miss Hill to her guests in a linen hamper decorated with large bows of white tulle.

Guests were Miss Hill, Mrs. Gene Hill and Mrs. A. W. McCally, mothers of the couple, Mrs. Charles A. Braun Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., Mrs. Mildred Epley, Mrs. Paul Frye and Misses Florence McCally, Jean Witt, Margaret Schlientz, Carol Epley, Mary Jane Reamany, der, Martha Schlientz and Clara Gillan.

A Shade Too Polite.

PENDING ARRANGEMENTS for the homecoming of former Sen. Hugo L. Black in such a way that he may swap a Ku Klux Klan sheet for a black robe, a last word about senatorial courtesy is in order.

Senatorial courtesy is the thing which makes it unpleasant for one senator to snop into the affairs of another senator for the purpose of embarassing him. It is the thing which makes it impossible for a senator to do anything wrong in the eyes of other senators.

Senatorial courtesy almost got the boot when Mr. Black was appointed to the supreme court, but finally it prevailed and the appointment was confirmed. It is assumed that one reason why Mr. Black was chosen; because it would be hard for his fellow senators to refuse to treat him courteously when his qualifications were examined.

They were a shade too polite, as it turned out.
It would have been less embarrassing for them and Mr. Black if they had looked through his ha-gaze, instead of letting his Ku Klux sheet turn up on the clothesline for all the world to see.

Layman's Balanced Budget.

IN STORIES about the national budget there appears over and over again this phrase—a layman's balanced budget.

On Thursday, United Press quoted fiscal officials in Washington as saying that a "layman's balanced budget is impossible this year."

Now a layman, broadly defined, is one of the people. A layman in financial matters, therefore, is a person who doesn't know much about the ins and outs of money matters.

His knowledge is rudimentary. He knows that two and two make four and knows that if he spends two dollars out of his pocket and gets credit for two more dollars he has spent four dollars and is two dollars in debt.

He knows he will have to pay the debt some time and that if the debt gets too big for him to handle he will be in trouble. He has learned from experience that the best way to keep out of trouble is to spend no more than he can earn.
These things are planted firmly in his mind.

So when he is told that a layman's balanced budget is impossible this year he doesn't exactly feel surprised, because he knows the government has been spending more than it earned ever since the beginning of the depression and already is signed up for another program of increased spending this year.

He wonders, therefore, what other kinds of balanced budgets there are besides the layman's kind. If there's an easier way, he wants to know the secret.

Half and Half.

WHEN THE convention of United Automobile Workers, sponsor last winter of the country's largest sit-down strike to date, endorsed that illegal method of paralyzing production and controlling the employer's property, those who have been frightened by this dangerous policy shivered a little more violently. Among the shivers were many unionists who don't like the implication of sit-down strikes and think unionism can't afford to monkey with such a double-edged weapon.

But United Rubber Workers, who some times are credited with inventing the sit-down strike, voted almost unanimously last Wednesday in their convention against using it.

Leaders of U. R. W. have had a lot of trouble with sit-down strikes. So have the leaders of U. A. W.
It is a good sign that one of two great C. I. O. unions seems willing to admit that lawlessness is a poor way to inspire public confidence as well as a risky way to place in the hands of the men they are trying to organize.

One Big Company.

IT'S HARD to know which is more important—that France can mobilize six million men in 48 hours or that the railroads which make such speedy mobilization possible henceforth are to be nationalized. The former fact was disclosed recently when the government decreed railroad nationalization.

From the French point of view there's probably no doubt. For better or worse, France is in the clutch of the "one big company" boys, with that "one big company" to be controlled by the government—a political monopoly.

The United States, which has been having its inevitable with the mob crowd, is going to keep its eye on France. It won't be long till the American evangelists of "one big government," "one big supreme court," "one big plan" and "one big happy family" will be using France for an example, instead of Great Britain, where they still take Lord Macaulay too seriously.

When that happens it will be interesting to know more about the French mobilization plans, too, because by that time six million Frenchmen probably will want to leave home in a hurry—and that many of 'em can't be wrong.

Japan's birth total fell off $8,760 last year, which may indicate that the stars and peace have entered into some sort of alliance in that section of the world.

Ohio has prospects of a fine crop of peaches, but for that matter don't you always have one?

Concerning New York

Here Are a Few Reasons Why Winning the Mayorality of New York City Is One of Prize Political Achievements.

FATHER KINKERBOCKER

In the throes of another mayoral campaign.
The prize is one of the most important political jobs in the country—or in the world for that matter.

The mayor of New York rules an empire of incredible proportions with a population larger than any one of dozens of countries of the world.

The uniformed forces of the city are larger than the standing armies of many a nation.

New York's budget is bigger than Japan's.
Its bonded debt is nearly double what the government owed in pre-war days.

The total of municipal workers in all departments could operate a first class country hospital, populate a city about which a chamber of commerce might boast.

Outside of the American presidency itself and possibly the office of a few governors, there is no job in the country of such political, economic and social significance.

Even a United States senator prefers it to the logs so valued in the political life of the country.

Unequaled in World Nowhere else in the world is there such a concentration of population, of wealth, of business, of science, of the arts and sciences, of industry, as in New York City.

Here 7,333,824 persons reside in the city proper, the center of a metropolitan district of 12,000,000.
The city population alone is as large as that acquired by Italy when she conquered Ethiopia. It's a larger population than can be counted in a string of countries as long as your arm, starting with Algeria, Australia and Austria, and continuing down the alphabet through Bolivia, Chile, Denmark, and Greece to Switzerland and Scotland.

The Irish Free State, which has contributed so much to New York life, has less than half the city's population. Canada, with 10,376,796, has only 25 per cent more in an area of 3,694,983 square miles against New York's crowded 219 square miles.

Legion of Johnholders
New York's official family numbers 146,968, including 19,564 police, 7,498 firemen and 14,910 saltary workers—a total of 42,000 in uniform.

The standing army of Argentina is smaller. There are more men in Argentina, Bolivia, Australia, Canada, Bulgaria, Chile, Denmark, just to sample the start of the alphabet.

The city's yearly budget would appear astronomical to the treasury departments of plenty of foreign countries. In fact the city's expenses today are getting up around what the United States government used to spend in the years before the war. The 1937 city budget calls for $22,766,917.10.

Government expenditures in 1932 were only $66,861,334.

The assessed valuation of New York property—nearly seven billion dollars—would if converted into cash, buy up a dozen mistacious kingdoms. Would pay, half the present governmental debt; in pre-war days it would have discharged 10 times over the federal debt of a little over a billion. That is quite a write-up from the $24 the original settlers paid the Indians.

Yacht Hotel Facilities
New York's hotels—500, with accommodations for 120,000—would house the populations of Jacksonville, Fla., for Kansas City, Kan., or Trenton, N. J., or Norfolk, Va.
Forty thousand persons are reputed to pass the doorway of one leading hotel alone daily.

There are books upon books of statistics like these of the things in which New York leads—from its 102-story skyscraper to its latest airplane building, but the New Yorker simply takes the city for granted as a leader in all fields.

Who is this New Yorker? He comes, apparently from everywhere in New York.

"New York," says one commentator, "has Irishmen and Germans and Welshmen and Jews; Syrians, Turks, Dutchmen, Swedes and Russians. It has Texans, Arizonians, Californians, Iowans and Pennsylvanians; Ohioans, Carolinians, Oregonians and Canadians—and while everyone appears, eventually, to come here, no one ever appears actually to have been born here."

300-Year Development This tremendous empire has been built in a little over 300 years.
Manhattan Island was discovered in 1609; the first house was built in 1613; New Amsterdam was incorporated in 1624; the first mayor took office in 1655, the 30th—Pietro de la Guardia—in 1924.

If you add all of the history and all of the statistics together you have something of the power and the glory represented by the mayor's office.

A writer—A New Yorker of course—summed it up thus: "New York is the greatest, grandest, most stirring show on earth—and it's never over. It's more than a city—it's an adventure around the

Who will ride this municipal mercy—no—round for four more years will be decided at the polls in November.

General Motors-C.I.O. Agreement Marks Important Step in Employer-Employee Problems.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Com-structive developments in the field of employer-employee relations some times go unnoticed because they are not sensational or dramatic. Yet the C.I.O. and the General Motors corporation have just come to an agreement on a principle of far-reaching importance which ought to be closely studied because it represents substantial progress.

For several weeks the General Motors Co. and the United Automobile Workers have been at an impasse over the revision of the contract which was originally signed after the big sit-down strike last winter. General Motors contended that no less than 200 sit-down strikes or walk-outs of various kinds had occurred, notwithstanding the pledge of the union that there would be no interruption of work pending a settlement of grievances through arbitral action. The General Motors official stood pat. President Knudsen said that the contract of the United Auto Workers wasn't worth revising because the original pact had not been kept. Then the discussion turned to the question of guarantees and assurances. General Motors stipulated that the union should not only agree to discipline persons participating in the union-called "unauthorized" strikes, but that the employer should not be held to be violating the law if he dismissed from his employ any of these persons responsible for "wild-cat" strikes.

Scott's Scrapbook

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, Sept. 18, 1927.
The Brinker family held its annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Brinker in Green Camp. The day also marked the eighty-sixth birthday anniversary of Mr. Brinker.

Miss Hazel Riley of Delaware avenue and Henry J. Bertrand of Indiana were united in marriage by Rev. E. Radebaugh at the Calvary Episcopal parsonage on East Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burgin and daughter Emily of Windsor street and Harold Thomas of Cherry street returned from Montreal, Canada, where they attended the convention of the American Railway Signal association.

The Marion Eagles baseball team was defeated by the Mansfield Yankees at Lincoln park 7-5. Good pitched for Marion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1907.
News dispatches reported that German bankers and manufacturers were preparing to meet a financial and industrial crisis almost as serious as the war itself after the end of the world conflict. It was said that representatives of German finance and industry were holding frequent secret meetings and were also spending fortunes in the spread of peace propaganda.
The report was that they were anxious to bring the war to a close as soon as possible.

Miss Marjorie McNell of Ellis court, Miss Marguerite Shuklin of East Church street, Edgar Barnhart of West Church street and Gail Thompson of Bellefontaine avenue went to Columbus to enter Ohio State university.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Houghton of Central Lake, Mich., at the residence of E.
P. Houghton on Gurley avenue.

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "A Tale of Two Cities" starring William Farnum and at the Grand, Vivian Martin had the leading role in "A Kiss for Sue."

The Cudde club met at the home of Mrs. O. G. Briggs on Forest street and arranged to host for the Naval league at the club meetings.

A library was counsel to conduct a campaign in Marion to raise approximately $15,000 as a contribution to a million dollar book-fund for libraries for American soldiers and sailors was organized at the Marion library at a meeting of the library trustees and a group of Marion women. Dr. A. Rhu, president of the library trustees, headed the organization. Miss Maude Louise McMurray was elected secretary and Michael C. O'Brien, treasurer.

Despite the rumors that the King of Kings had fled the country with 100 chests packed with gold, silver and jewels, subsequent events have proved these tales to be grossly exaggerated. In fact, it was not long ago that Selassie was forced to sell a considerable portion of the royal silverware which he salvaged before his flight in order to meet living expenses. Contrary to reports, the trunks and chests which he carried into exile were filled, for the most part, with household effects.

"Lions" Roar Silenced
While the Lion of Judah may be rather short of ready cash at the moment, he is not without assets.
His chief claim to wealth is his holding of some 8,500 acres of the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad, running from the former capital to the border. But there are complications in the way of turning this into ready money. Italy has bought all most of the Djibouti claim title to the stock, which was in reality owned by the defunct Ethiopian government. At the same time, Italy is desirous of obtaining complete control of the line, so the matter will probably be settled eventually by having the shares transferred through a private party acting as broker.

Indeed, there is little left to roar about for the once-proud Lion of Judah, whose lot is now cast with that of other royal exiles now roaming about Europe.

Too Late To Help.
The revelation from Moscow that, in their liquidation of the Ku-klux five years ago, the authorities often executed the wrong kulaks, is perhaps not exactly astonishing, but it does open up an interesting line of speculation. At that time, we are told, Trotskyist conspirators among the soviet dispensers of agrarian justice saw to it that honest peasants were shot for trivial offenses like "stealing five pounds of vegetables." The purpose was described as "to stir up dissension and rage against the law, the government, and the party."

This news must be very confusing to the ordinary Russian, as it certainly is to the rest of us. If the rigors of the campaign against peasants for hoarding and wrecking are now attributed to machinations by the Trotsky extremists, how is one to be sure that in 1925 it will not be shown that the current accusations of wreckers and conspirators were similarly inspired? Certainly there was a thematic defense by the right people of the anti-kulak policy and the acts under it when the liquidation of the peasants was in progress.
Now is the head of Russia's tractor manufacturing enterprise, now under denunciation for menshevik activity, to be certain that the charges brought against him are made by Simon-pure, double certified communists and not by devoted workers who will be exposed five years from now?

In spite of all that has been said in favor of the efficiency of col-lectivism as opposed to the anarchy of private production, one should be permitted to observe that the way of the collective producer, at least in Russia, is no undeviating path of roses. He is "charged" with producing dark colored stockings instead of light colored stockings, with making motor cars which do not stand up under Russian driving over rough roads, etc., etc., in a noncollective country the stocking manufacturer or the automobile maker might go bankrupt because the consumers preferred the products of his competitors. In Russia he is compelled against the press, subjected to charges and possibly liquidated. Bankrup-cy is pretty bad, but being shot is more final, and if it crops up later that the victim was shot by Tro-tskyists, there is almost nothing to be said for it.

Selassie's New Woes

Financial Problems Now Beset Ethiopia's King of Kings, Living in Exile Near Bath, England.

BY MAURICE MERRYFIELD

International News Writer NEW YORK—Only about a year ago the name of Haile Selassie I, King of Kings and emperor of Ethiopia, was much in the news, but today one scarcely hears his mentioned and only an occasional short dispatch records his doings.

What has become of him? Where is he living? What does the future hold for the deposed Lion of Judah? How has he fared since he fled his country to take refuge in Palestine?

What has become of the ruler of the hundred chests of gold and silver he was supposed to have salvaged from the wreck of his empire?

Recent events indicate that Selassie may be now taking his final bow from the international scene. Great Britain, formerly Haile Selassie's ally, is inclined to lend a helping hand to Selassie and opposed to recognizing the Italian conquest of the country, now seems to be maneuvering to win Italy's friendship through acceptance of Italy's claim to Ethiopia as a conquered province.

It is probable that Ethiopia will be denied representation at the League of Nations when the forthcoming session begins. If England sides with the others, as is expected, and excludes Ethiopia from the assembly session, it would spell final for Selassie as far as any role—even that of a pawn—is concerned in European diplomatic maneuvers.

In recent months Selassie has been living in comparative seclusion on an eight-acre country place which he purchased near Bath, England. It was there that he went after his hurried departure to Palestine when the Roman legions swept into Addis Ababa. He also has a chateau in Switzerland, but this has remained unoccupied and, although it has been on the market for more than a year, it has stood vacant for lack of a buyer or renter.

Despite the rumors that the King of Kings had fled the country with
and jewels, subsequent events have
long ago that Selassie was forced
salvaged before his flight in order

to reports, the trunks and chests
which he carried into exile were
household effects.

While the Lion of Judah may be
rather short of ready cash at the moment, he is not without assets.
His chief claim to wealth is his
holding of some 8,500 acres of the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad, running from the former capital to the
in the way of turning this into
ready money. Italy has bought
all most of the Djibouti claim title
to the stock, which was in reality
owned by the defunct Ethiopian
government. At the same time, Italy is desirous of obtaining com-
matter will probably be settled
acting as broker.

Indeed, there is little left to roar
about for the once-proud Lion of
that of other royal exiles now
roaming about Europe.

MARION OFFERS COMEDY FILM

Alison Skipworth, Polly Moran in "Two Wise Maids" Begins Sunday.

Alison Skipworth and Polly Moran are the stars of the comedy, "Two Wise Maids," booked for Sunday and Monday at the Marion. The comedienne is shown as a tough schoolmar in a tough east side New York district in the Nineties. The younger generation of teachers is represented by the new principals, Donald Cook, and a screen newcenter, Hope Manning. These two, close to the hearts of the older teachers who trained them, furnish the romance. Comedy is added by the explosive Louis Alberni and old Harry Burns, ex-Greek and Italian owners of the corner grocery and would-be suitors of Miss Moran. Jackie Searl, boy star in his own right, and 50 other youngsters make up the schoolroom cast. A Bob Allen western, "Reckless Rangers," will be shown on the same bill. "Her Husband Lies," featuring Gail Patrick, Ricardo Cortez, June Martel and Tom Brown, and "Sweetheart of the Navy," co-starring Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker, will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday. The former is the story of a gambler who stakes his wife's love, his honor and his brother's happiness on a lie he is forced to tell. Brown plays the role of Cortez's younger brother. Music and comedy prevail in "Sweetheart of the Navy" with Miss Parker playing the part of a sophisticated ex-show girl who is hostess in a sailor's rendezvous. Linden plays a fast-stepping, hard-hitting gambler who gets what he wants but has to wreck the place to do it. Both roles are of a different character than those usually taken by the two players. One of the amusing Jones Family pictures, "Off to the Races," featuring Slim Summerville and the family, will return Thursday through Saturday on a bill with one of the William Boyd pictures, "Hoping Along, Hopalong, Again." "Off to the Races" is comedy, built around an average American family that gets mixed up in racing when "Uncle" Slim Summerville and his orphan horse come home to roost. The Hopalong Cassidy pictures, following the "freak" toward high-type western dramas, have built up a following of fans who enjoy action pictures well produced. The latest film introduces a new child star, Billy Lee.

POPULAR STARS IN PALACE FILM.

Spencer Tracy and Lulu Rainer are a new team in "Big City," which will be on the Palace screen Sunday through Tuesday.

Cast of Stars Presents Feature Film at Palace

"Big City" Booked for Three Days After Scoring Hit at Sneak Preview; Shiek Picture Billed.

The Palace theater brought "Big City" to Marion for a "sneak preview" last week and now the management has booked the picture for Sunday through Tuesday, the first theater in Ohio to show it. Patrons at the preview were enthusiastic about the picture and its stars, Spencer Tracy and Lulu Rainer. In addition to the program will carry the latest "March of Time," with an episode, "War in China," which the producers regard as a new high in this feature's interpretation and presentation of contemporary news. A star who has been before a motion picture camera in two years, handsome Ramon Novarro, returns to the screen in "The Shiek Steps Out," which will be shown Thursday and Friday following "Women Men Marry" on Wednesday. "Souls at Sea," starring Gary Cooper and George Raft, will start Saturday. Dramatic Theme "Big City" concerns itself with the human adventure of a humble taxicab driver and his immigrant bride. The city is the background. The story was written and produced by Norman Krasna, brilliant young New York playwright. Among outstanding players in the supporting cast are Charley Grapewin, Janet Beecher, Eddie Quillan, Victor Varconi, Oscar O'Shea, and Regis Toomey. Some of the scenes are laid in Jack Dempsey's famous restaurant opposite Madison Square Garden in New York City, with many notable of the sporting fraternity facing the cameras. Among those who take part in a free-for-all fight sequence are Dempsey, James J. Jeffries, Jimmy McLarnin, Maxie Rosenbloom, Jim Thorpe, Frank Wykoff, Jackie Fields, Man Mountain Dean and Bull Montana. George Murphy, Josephine Hutchinson, Claire Dodd, Cliff Edwards and Sidney Blackmer appear in "Women Men Marry," a romantic melodrama built around a triangle situation. Modern Shiek Role. Valentino created one of the screen's undying roles in "The Shiek." Now, in "The Shiek Steps Out," Novarro plays the role of a high born shiek who impersonates a lowly guide in order to be in a position to "tame" a wild young American heiress, portrayed by Lila Lee. Not only does he split Lila off into the desert, but he sings glamorous desert songs to her and rescues her when she is in the tolls of a band of Arabian bandits who are employed by the countess' young shiek to set the stage for his conquest. Kathleen Burke appears as the heiress' jealous cousin whose inclinations also run toward shiekdom. In 1935 Novarro was granted a release from his motion picture contract and in the intervening two years has devoted himself to perfecting his voice and singing in concerts abroad.

TOP RATE TALE IN OHIO FILM

Kelland's Story Adopted to "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air" Now Showing Here.

"Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," adapted from the highly entertaining novel, "The Great Crooner," by Clarence Budington Kelland, opened yesterday at the Ohio and will remain through Monday. Three days, starting Tuesday, the feature will be "Dance, Charlie, Dance," featuring Stuart Erwin and Jean Muir, and on Friday a four-day showing of the new Loretta Young-Don Ameche romance, "Love Under Fire," will start. The Kelland story gives Kenny Baker, faithful to radio fans, an amusing comedy in which to make his picture debut as a full-fledged star. It was run as a serial in a national weekly and then was a best-seller in book form. Young Baker has the role of a small-town electrician who suddenly finds himself a famous radio star—all because of a throat operation. Frank McHugh, a top comedian, plays Kenny's press agent; Alice Brady has the role of an eccentric opera singer who wants to marry the young radio hero; slinky Gertrude Michael has the vamp role and pretty Jane Wyman has the heroine's role. George S. Kaufman's successful stage play, "The Butler and Egg Man," was adapted to the screen as "Dance, Charlie, Dance," with Stuart Erwin and Jean Muir featured. The story has to do with a couple of phony Broadway producers who induce Erwin, a stagestruck boy from the country who has just inherited some money, to put $20,000 into a show they want to produce. Allen Jenkins and Charles Foy have these parts. Jenkins has a hard-boiled wife, Glenda Farrell, an ex-fan dancer who is always threatening him with a revival of her semi-nude activities. The show flops in a small-town tryout and the rogues sell it to Erwin and a stagestruck hotel man, Chester Clute. Erwin rearranges the show, takes it to New York and it becomes a big money-maker. The two wise guys then offer $100,000 for it, and the two owners sell—having advance information that the cultured owners will be sued for plagiarism and will have to give up two-thirds of their profits. The love story involves Erwin, who becomes romantically attached to his secretary, Miss Muir. Minneville's Rascals, who appeared here in person several weeks ago, and Borrah Minneville himself, are in the Young-Ameche picture, "Love Under Fire." Others in important roles are Frances Drake, Walter Catlett, John Carradine and Harold Huber. Set against a background of the Spanish war, the story ignores the sterner side and turns to comedy and romance. Miss Young, fleeing madly about Europe, seeking to evade capture and imprisonment for a crime she mistakenly believes she has committed, and is pursued by Ameche, a Scotland Yard detective, who believes her guilty until certain facts clear up matters.

TWO NEWCOMERS IN PICTURE AT OHIO

Kenny Baker and Jane Wyman, two new young person-alities, are that way about each other in "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air." Baker's first starring picture, which will be on the Ohio screen through Monday.

TWO HITS ON STATE'S BILL

"Shall We Dance" and "Story of Louis Pasteur" on Week's Schedule.

Two outstanding hits are featured at the State theater for the week beginning Sunday. Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are featured in "Shall We Dance" for two days beginning Sunday. The other widely acclaimed hit will be the "Story of Louis Pasteur," starring Paul Muni and Josephine Hutchinson as one half of a double bill beginning Thursday and running through Saturday. "Arizona Bad Man," featuring Reb Russell will be the other half of a double feature. Tuesday and Wednesday will see Bob Livingston and Ray Corrigan in "Ghost Town Gold" and Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker in "Girl Loves Boy." Muni portrays Louis Pasteur, the great French chemist and bacteriologist who contributed so much to science. The story centers around Pasteur's battle against ignorance and prejudice, to save life through sterilization and the use of vaccines against disease. Pasteur was hounded from Paris by physicians but struggled on in another part of France to see his work recognized and himself acclaimed. Josephine Hutchinson plays the part of his faithful wife who shared his exile and aided him in his experimental work. In "Shall We Dance," RKO's latest Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers film, there is presented, for the first time on the screen a tap dance done on roller skates. The dance, which was worked out by Astaire, is accompanied by one of the song hits of the season, "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off." The romantic element in "Shall We Dance" has been stressed to a much greater degree than in any of the previous Astaire-Rogers pictures. The delightful situations that lead up to the marriage of the the hero and heroine have romance on a sparkling scale. CALLED JUDAISM CENTER. SALT LAKE CITY—The Utah State is the present center of world Judaism, Rabbi Morris Stein of Seattle Israel Synagogue, San Francisco said here. Of 1,000,000 Jews in the world, 600 reside in the United States, he asserted.

Orators Warn Nation Against A Dictatorship

Court Reorganization Cruz of Constitution Day Defense of Democracy.

By the Associated Press

Please do keep a dictatorship from supplanting the American democracy which has endured for 150 years elected today from the cradle of the Constitution day.

They sprang from the controversy over President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the federal judiciary, to obtain what he called last night a layman's interpretation of the Constitution rather than a legalistic concept.

Whether the speakers were aligned with Mr. Roosevelt or were opposed to him, they declared that powerful forces were at work to make themselves the nation's masters.

Sen. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, appeared at the successful service battle against the President on the court house, told a Chicago audience the United States needs to be on guard against "unseen government."

"We should not make our government subservient to one man or get up a totalitarian state because our politicians have been unable to solve the problems of overproduction, underconsumption or unemployment," he said.

As long as the independence of the judicial, executive and legislative branches of government is preserved, Wheeler said, there is no danger of a dictatorship. But, he added:

"The slightest infringement on our political and personal liberties cannot be permitted. Our liberties have been achieved with too great sacrifice to be frittered away by beautiful promises of economic security now."

KIDNAPING SUSPECT HELD IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Arrested of kidnapping a 20-year-old war hero and his wife in a hotel in New York City today, police said. The victim, Julius Redlich, identified Hanawald, a former employee, as the man who kidnapped him in his wife's home, N. Y. Hanawald, 34, and forced him at gunpoint to accompany him to a hotel in New York City. Redlich told police a harrowing story of being forced into a cave so small he had to lie down, chained and handcuffed to stakes, while he argued for hours to force his kidnaper to lower his $20,000 ransom demands.

BABES' CONTINUED GOOD

The condition of an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McGuire, of 442 Thompson street, was reported as "good" by the attending physician this morning. At the child's birth, Thursday night, three city firemen worked over it for 30 minutes to assist it in overcoming a minor obstruction in its respiratory passages, which hindered it from breathing properly.

KENTON, O., Sept. 10.—Kenton High school dedicated its new $22,000 athletic field last night in the opening, in ball game of the season.

Making their first appearance on the new lighted field, the Kenton players defeated Forest High school, 13 to 6 before 2,000 persons, the largest crowd ever to attend a football game in Kenton.

A one-hour dedicatory program preceded the game. Short talks were given by Mayor W. G. Bopp of Kenton, Dr. W. Thoms, superintendent of Forest school, Al E. McKinley, superintendent of Kenton schools, Charles Steacy, principal of Kenton schools, Coach L. Hoyt, father of Kenton and Chester H. Wadsworth, president of the Kenton board of education. The Kenton High school band furnished music.

JEWISH VETERANS FIGHT J. W. GROUP

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 10.—Members of Jewish's Veterans continued to use Memorial hall today despite a protest from a Jewish veterans group officer on the grounds they were "unpatriotic."

The downtown meetings have been held in connection with the international convention of the World, War, Bible and Talmud society, formal name of the J. W. Veterans group, which has been meeting at the state fairgrounds.

Stanley Schwartz, Columbus attorney and judge advocate of Jewish World War Veterans in Ohio, said members of his group did not object to the religious beliefs of the veterans and their refusal to salute a flag, "but we do object to this unpatriotic organization being given use of a hall dedicated to the memory of patriotic men who died for their country and flag."

"SATAN, HIS WORK, IS SERMON TOPIC

"Satan's personality is being repudiated today," Rev. H. M. Palmer declared in a revival sermon on "Satan, His Work and His Gospel" last night at the First Memorial Baptist church. "Men are saying he is merely evil, or a bad influence. He is a powerful person. Satan has been against God, His Word, and His Christ from the time he fell and he uses all the tools and people he can."

Rev. Palmer continued: "Satan is a greater of personal righteousness, God says our righteousness is as filthy rags. Satan says salvation is by works and not by grace. He preaches reformation, sanitation and education are as good as regeneration. Satan and his ministers are preachers of the universal fatherhood of God and the universal brotherhood of man. His is the social gospel. His is a bloodless gospel and a crossless Christ."

Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Palmer will preach on "A Lost Christ," and at night at 7:45 on "The Gospel Valued and Unvalued." The revival campaign will continue next week, with services each night at 7:45, except Saturday.
